

Introduction to Quality Management Systems

ISO 9001: 2015 Online Course

Overview

The Introduction to ISO 9001:2015 online course has been designed to act as an introduction to the ISO 9001 Quality Management System standard and the benefits it can bring to your organisation. The course covers all the sections of the ISO 9001 standard and explains in plain language what this means and how it can positively affect your business.

This ISO 9001 training course should take about 8 hours to complete however different candidates will learn at a faster or slower pace.

Course Program & Benefits

The course content is broken into the following seven sections and follows the structure of the ISO 9001 standard:

- An Introduction to Quality Concepts
- Systems and Standards
- Organisational Context
- Leadership
- Support
- Operation
- Measurement and Analysis
- Improvement

The course introduces the ISO 9001 standard in a real context and in simple language. Upon completion, candidates will be able to explain the fundamentals of ISO 9001. They will also be able to identify situations within their own organisation that satisfy the quality management standards and situations that don't satisfy the quality management standards.

As well as auditing hints and tips throughout, each participant is issued with a certificate upon completion of the course.

Who Should Attend?

- Business owners/managers considering ISO 9001 implementation and certification
- Recently certified businesses that need to train their staff
- Quality Managers and Auditors
- Anyone who participates in the maintenance and continual improvement of a QMS

Why Choose Southpac?

At Southpac Certifications, we take a fresh approach to certification, becoming a partner in the certification process, rather than just ticking the boxes every year.

Our focus is on continuous improvement for our clients' long term success and adding value to their organisation, including professional development and training opportunities for staff and leadership involved with management systems.

That's why we call it Certification Differently™

All Southpac Certifications clients receive complimentary access to the ISO 9001 course.